

A Leader in Electric Motor Testing

Tip Of The Week

January 6, 2014

Happy New Year!

Happy New Year! It's a new year, 2014. If you haven't done so already, now is a good time to evaluate your motor testing program. Review what was accomplished last year, and what needs to be accomplished throughout this new year. Which processes need to be improved? What new equipment or training is needed? What area did you do great in and where can improvements be made? Establish a culture for yearly improvements of your motor testing program. Make new, specific goals for 2014 and place them in view where you can see them throughout the year. For MCEGold® users, if you need a good place to start, look no further than your Site Condition window. Clicking on the 'Unassigned' tab lists all the motors that have been tested, but have no condition assigned. If someone spent the time to test the motor, then someone should spend the time to look at the data and establish a condition for the motor. Let's start the year out with a condition assigned to 100% of our tested motors.

Here's to a successful 2014 from all of us, to all of you.
